NATIVE PLANT SCHOOL ...for Greener Gardens!

Native Plant School 10th Anniversary

Celebrating 10 years of Greener Gardens!

Keynote speaker Alan Branhagen (director of horticulture at Powell Gardens) will be introducing his new book Native Plants of the Midwest (Timber Press).

Saturday, October 17, 1-5 p.m.

Free to the Public

RSVP at www.shawnature.org/nps

10th Anniversary Schedule

Visit Exhibiters and Tour the Whitmire Wildflower Garden	1-3 p.m.
Social, light food and refreshments (Pavilions)	3 p.m.
Keynote Address: ALAN BRANHAGEN (Pavilions/Big Tent)	4 p.m.

Free willow seedlings (prairie or diamond) to attendees while they last.
Tallamy says there are 456 caterpillars on willow!!

Educational Exhibits Include:

- Conversations with native plant expert & acclaimed author Alan Branhagen
- Live music in the Garden: Nathan Gilberg, Matt Rowland and Friends
- Face-time with Horticulture staff and Entomologist James Trager
- Flower arrangements & bush honeysuckle control (SNR Staff)
- Butterfly Host plants with Wild Ones St. Louis
- Bird Bubbler demo with Gateway Gardener Mag. editor Robert Weaver
- Backyard Consults with Audubon's Bring Conservation Home
- Monarch Butterflies and Home Garden Soil Tests with MO Master Naturalists
- Native Landscape Solutions with Grow Native!
- Food for Birds with Wild Bird Rehabilitation
- Insect Hotels with Perennial Remake Workshop
- Bush Honeysuckle Tables with Dale Dufer*
- Asian Carp Nuggets served on Bush Honeysuckle Tables
- Wine & Beer by the glass or bottle with Edg-Clif Vineyard*
- Pottery and throwing techniques with The Art Center at Gilbergs
- Sustainable Urban Farming with Native Plants with Lincoln University
- Food from Local Harvest Books From SNR Bookstore*

items available for purchase

Wild Ones NATIVE PLANTS, NATURAL LANDSCAPES ST. LOUIS CHAPTER

SHAW NATURE RESERVE a division of the MISSOURI BOTANICAL GARDEN

MDC DISCOVER nature

Special thanks to Wild Ones St. Louis for Sponsoring this 10th Anniversary Celebration!