Things to Remember

We hope you and your students have a wonderful time at the Missouri Botanical Garden today! While you are here, please keep the following information in mind:

1. Avoid stepping in planting beds. You may walk on the grass, but please do not step into the beds. Use the paths as you explore.
2. Treat the plants respectfully. Don't pick leaves, flowers or fruits. Remember: plants are living things, so be gentle with them.
3. Do not touch plants or pick up plant material in the conservatories, including the Climatron® conservatory, the Temperate House and the Linnean House. These collections contain many exotic plants.
4. Be safe and stay together! Students should be supervised by an adult at all times. Please walk and be respectful of other visitors. We want everyone to enjoy their visit to the Missouri Botanical Garden!

MISSOURI BOTANICAL GARDEN

Doris I. Schnuck Children's Garden

Consider scheduling a trip to the Doris I. Schnuck Children's Garden the next time you visit! Located near the Climatron, the Children's Garden offers students the opportunity to learn about plants in a fun, play-focused atmosphere. Admission costs apply. Open April-October.

School groups must pre-register to enter.

Where Can We Eat?

Picnic tables, pavilions and open space are available at Tower Grove Park, located south of the Garden across Magnolia Avenue.

Please note that our picnicking on the Missouri Botanical Garden grounds is strictly prohibited. This includes parking lots, benches, and lawns.
